Hi All,

Your not going to believe this but.... I was reading thru some old issues of QST last night and came across an article in the January 1933 issue titled Tunable Hum Its Cause, Effect and Elimination. The subject of the article was the introduction of 60 cycle hum products when using gas vapor (tungar) and mercury vapor rectifiers.

The solution to the problem was the introduction of a rf choke in series between the HV xfmr and the recifier and, guess what, shunting the rectifier with a small value capacitor. Those old guys were pretty clever!

Bye the way, if anyone would like a reprint of the article, send me an SASE.

Can anyone tell me if the Radio Club of America still exists? This organization was a major radio organization during the 1920s, '30s, and (I think) the '40s. Does anyone remember what was the name of this organization's journal?

Thanks for any help you can provide.

I believe that I have seen references to it as being a SW/DX or BCB/DX organization.

Keep us posted.

Jim, Yes it does. I am a member as I am sure are many others on the glowbugs. It's journal is called the Proceedings of the RCA and can vary from 20 to 30 pages to over 300, depending on what material they select to send out. In 1990, November issue was devoted entirely to "The Legacies of Edwin Howard Armstrong" and was over 300 pages. Outstanding material, it was 8 1/2 x 11 and about 1 inch thick! The dues are $40 for 3 years. If you would like more info, pls let me know. I can't find my current issue for details, at the moment.
